THE WAR IN THE WEST.

MAILS FROM THE PACIFIC.

THE SPANIARDS BURNING THEIR PRIZES.

We have files of papers from Valparaiso to the 7th, and private letters to the 8th inst. The damage caused by the bombardment is greatly exaggerated by the Chilians: instead of 20 or 50 millions, as stated, it hardly exceeds 7 million dollars, the Spaniards not having bombarded the city but only the Government offices. Ten houses were accidentally destroyed. A vote of thanks has been given to the fire-brigades for their services in extinguishing the fires: the inhabitants have returned to their houses.

The most important news is that the Spaniards have begun to burn their prizes, and are about to leave the port, probably to shell the public buildings of Valdivia, Concepcion, and other ports. It is also expected they will at once re-occupy the Chincha Islands.

H. M. S. Devastation left for England on the 3rd. The Attachés of Sor. Lastarria's mission to the River Plate had arrived back again at Santiago, and it is doubtful whether Lastarria will be recalled.

BOMBARDMENT OF VALPARAISO.

DETAILED ACCOUNT BY THE 'MERCURIO.'

Valparaiso, April 2, 1866.

This time we write in the midst of smoke and ruins, and we shall only be able to present our readers with a rapid sketch of the surprising events which have been brought forth by the last fortnight.

Ever since the arrival of the steamer of the 12th of March, it was said, that the Spanish Admiral had received peremptory orders to bombard this port, and although at first little credit was given to this rumor, because it was believed to have been diffused for the purpose of intimidating us, without any serious intention of carrying out the menace; it was known afterwards in a positive manner that the Cabinet of Madrid had actually given positive orders that the crime of bombarding an utterly defenceless city should be consummated. At the same time it became known that the Admiral had been invested with the character of Minister Plenipotentiary, and he accordingly announced that he was disposed to treat for peace.

The Minister of the United States, General Kilpatrick, and the Commodore of the squadron of the same Republic, Mr. Rogers, began negotiations in an official capacity with the Spanish Admiral, in order to arrive at a pacific solution of the difficulty by proposing to both belligerents conditions which in their opinion were easy and honorable. The principal point of the question was the salute, and General Kilpatrick proposed that this should be got over in the following manner: the Chilian and Spanish flags were to be hoisted on one of the ships of the United States squadron, and should be saluted simultaneously with 21 guns. In continuance, at a given hour, the Chilian flag should be hoisted on the Numancia, and the Spanish flag at the artillery Barracks, and saluted simultaneously on land and on board, with 21 guns. The prisoners should be placed at liberty, the prizes returned, and all questions as to pecuniary reclamations should be submitted to the arbitration of a friendly power.

General Kilpatrick and Commodore Rodgers made every effort, in various conferences to induce Admiral Mendez Nuñez to accept these conditions; but in vain; the Spanish Admiral was inflexible in requiring that Chile should previously salute the Spanish banner without allowing himself to be dissuaded from his exactions by the considerations which those gentlemen so thoroughly versed in questions of honor adduced to convince him.

On the 24th of the past month they made the last attempt to obtain the philanthropic and beneficial result they had proposed to themselves, but Mendez Nuñez having displayed the same inflexibility with regard to the previous salute, the conferences were closed; the Spanish Admiral announcing that if on the 27th he did not receive a satisfactory reply to his demands, he would proceed to intimate what would be the coercive measures he would execute. Of course silence was the only answer elicited by his insolent summons.

The 27th arrived, and in the early part of the day, the Intendant of the province received a despatch from Mendez Nuñez intimating to him, that on the 31th of March the guns of the Spanish squadron would bombard Valparaiso, giving a term of four days for the retirement from the city of the children, women and old men.

Directly on the publication of this intimation, the consular body which had received official warning of the bombardment in a note from Mendez Nuñez, accompanying the manifesto addressed by him to the diplomatic corps, met together to deliberate on the steps to be adopted to save the lives and properties of their countrymen. The first step that occurred to them was to have recourse to the Commanders-in-chief of the English and American Squadrons intreating their intervention to prevent by force if necessary, the consummation of an act of barbarity in such palpable violation of the laws and practices of civilized nations. It was represented to them that Valparaiso being a purely commercial city—and more especially an English factory—in which almost all the property belongs to the foreign residents, and the destruction of which was not conducive to further military operations, nothing would justify a bombardment.

The American Commodore immediately manifested his willingness to afford to the foreign residents the protection which they solicited; but he required as an indispensable condition the active co-operation of the English squadron anchored in this port, and the moral support of France, which at present has no forces in the bay to protect the interests of French citizens.

The English Admiral, who on a former occasion had offered to his countrymen the active interference of his force to prevent the outrage, said that he could promise nothing without the concurrence of Her Britannic Majesty's Chargé d'Affaires, who at that time had arrived at this port in company with the Charge d'Affaires of France.

These Gentlemen, the English Admiral and the United States Minister and Commodore, met together to deliberate, and after a long discussion the representatives of England and France announced that having instructions to preserve the strictest neutrality they would abstain from all intervention to prevent the bombardment by force, and could not, in consequence, afford their co-operation to the United States squadron to that effect. The English Admiral, the Honorable Joseph Denman, thus retracted the promise which he had formerly given his countrymen. The Americans thought then that they could not take under their exclusive responsibility the step of making use of force to protect the lives and interests of the foreign residents.

The Consular body knowing there was nothing to expect from the naval forces at present ornamenting our bay, drew up the energetic protest which will be seen in another column and sent it off to Mendez Nuñez. He returned it to them stating that he could not receive it on account of being couched in improper terms, but the consuls sent it back again declaring that they confirmed what they had therein said, and that they would send a copy of it to their respective Government.

The United States Commodore passed a communication to the consuls declaring, that every effort made by him to prevent the bombardment and obtain for that purpose the co-operation of England and France, having proved ineffectual he would have to retire with his forces.

The inhabitants, who during all that time had been incessantly occupied in saving their families and interests, hastened then to depart from the city; but as in three days it was impossible to withdraw from it all the valuable property they possessed, goods and furniture of immense value remained. In the Custom-house stores merchandize to the value of more than 25 million dollars at least remained, belonging entirely to European houses of business, and in a very inconsiderable degree, comparatively, to American firms. Two months would not have been enough to remove such an accumulation of merchandize.

Notwithstanding on the 31st, the day after Good Friday, at ten minutes past nine in the morning, the guns of the Spanish squadron opened fire upon the bonded stores with red hot shot and shell, and after two hours work set in flames the third and fourth section of these stores, which contained goods worth about 15 million dollars, entirely belonging to the foreigners, whose splendid naval forces adorn the bay, and calmly looked on at the work of devastation.

At the same time the Spaniards set fire to the Planchada Street, inhabited almost entirely by French merchants and shop-keepers, and there destroyed buildings and merchandize to the extent of about three million dollars.

Almost all this heavy loss has fallen upon foreign residents, and more particularly the English, because their diplomatic representatives and their Admiral refused all intervention and disgracefully abandoned the interests of their countrymen.

ESTIMATE OF DAMAGES SUSTAINED.

The damage done to private properties in the bombardment is set down as follows:—

House of Manet & Co., ...	$15,000
Do. Gallo, ...	315,000
Hotel Union, ...	75,000
House of Templeman, ...	55,000
Do. Diaz, ...	30,000
Do. Cood and others, ..	42,000
Do. Peña (Calle Clave),	15,000
Do. Pedregal and others,	16,000
Do. Mr. Edwards (Calle Cochrane), ...	15,000
Do. Correa and others,..	35,000
Total, ...	$633,000

The damage to public buildings consists of—

Railway station....3,500$
Intendencia.....4,000
The Bolsa.....2,500
Artillery barracks.. 500
Custom-house....540,200$ —	550,700

The other losses comprise—

Furniture, merchandise and in private houses.....	1;500,000
Custom-house goods burnt..	12;000,000
Miscellaneous injuries.....	50,000
Total.....	$14;730,000

This calculation is generally thought to be under the mark, and most people set down the entire damages in round numbers at 20 million hard dollars.

LATEST FROM VALPARAISO.

(Private Letter.)

Valparaiso, April 8th 1866.

Although we have as yet no exact return of the damage caused by the bombardment of this city it is generally believed that it will not exceed seven or eight million dollars. The Spanish fleet still remains in port, but as they have begun to burn the prizes which somewhat encumbered them, the opinion is confirmed that the vessels mean to leave here soon, although we can have no idea what direction they will take.

MAILS FROM PANAMA.

LATEST FROM CENTRAL AMERICA.

EARTHQUAKE AT THE CHINCHA ISLANDS.

THE BARBACOAS GOLD MINES.

Panamá, March 12.

We have little news of importance from the Central American States, all of which are at peace. On the 31st January, Congress closed its sessions in Guatemala, and the President had started on a tour of inspection through the departments of the State.

The only news from Salvador is the marriage of the President of the Republic, Señor Dueñas.

The earthquakes in Nicaragua were not attended by any serious results. The trial of Captain Lozada and the schooner 'Manuelita Planas,' had been concluded. The former was sentenced to fine or imprisonment, and the latter condemned to be sold.

From Costa Rica we learn that dyptheria and scarlet fever were committing fearful ravages in San José, where upwards of 140 deaths had occurred, among them the daughter of the President of the Republic.

The Talca brings us no news of importance from Peru and Ecuador. From Tumaco we have dates to the 23rd ult. Great excitement existed there about the Barbacoas gold mines, and most wonderful reports reach us regarding their richness. On investigating them, however, we are led to the conclusion that what we published some time ago in reference to these mines was perfectly correct, and we still advise Californians to stay at home until they hear further. We have every assurance of the richness of the country in the precious metal, but men cannot go there and pick it up by the handful. Time and money are both required to get to it, and little can be done there in the way of successful mining unless capital is first introduced. There are but two mines open yet, and they are reported to be very successful; a party of four men are said to have taken from their sluice forty one pounds weight in a week. A Mr. Livingston, who has been there about a year, returned to Panama on the Talca with some sixteen thousand dollars. He was six months sick during the time he was there, and the money he has now is the result of his labors after he recovered. Everything in the shape of provisions, lumber, &c. is reported to be scarce and high, but this will soon correct itself. It rains nearly every afternoon the year round, and chills and fever are prevalent.

The party that left here on the 'Guayaquil' had gone up to Barbacoas, but no news had been received from them at the time the Talca left. It will probably be some weeks before any account reaches us of what they are doing.

From the interior of this Republic there is little of interest.

The Buenaventura and Cauca road still progresses. General Mosquera had, while in Europe, raised four millions of dollars to carry on the road. It is thought that by the end of April the most difficult part of the road will be overcome, being that part from Saltito to Juntas. The company have now 400 men engaged on the enterprise besides 3 engineers and 2 assistants, with carpenters' and blacksmiths' shops and all necessary machinery. As soon as a good mule or waggon road is open which will probably be in six months, it is expected the company will then call for contracts to build the railroad.

Chincha Islands, Feb. 24, 1866.

During the past week there has been quite an exodus from these Islands, consequent upon a notice that all Spaniards were to leave forthwith, and so completely has the notice been complied with that there is not a Spaniard on either island; some have travelled no farther than Pisco, others have found their way as far as Callao, while not a few have taken passage or shipped on board vessels bound to Europe. Many Peruvians have vacated their homes here, and with their families sought the capital. Business is quite at a stand-still, the fear of the Spanish fleet coming to take possession seems fallen upon all. On Saturday, the 17th ult, a severe shock of an earthquake was felt here; it commenced at 11 minutes past 1 p.m., and lasted 16 seconds; it seemed to travel from south-east towards north-west, as it was distinctly felt in Paraca Bay, and at both the middle and south island here, but not at the north. Several slight shocks have since been experienced on the north island. The weather is extremely hot and several cases of typhus fever are reported.—

THE WAR IN THE NORTH.

TWO DAYS LATER FROM ITAPIRU.

NOTHING NEW.

Paraná, April 25.

To the Editors of the 'Standard.'

Gentlemen,

Yesterday and last night the Brazilian transport steamers arrived here. They say on board—'no hay novedad.' It was expected that on last Saturday the Paraguayan entrenchments would be forced, and one of the steamers left on Sunday, consequently nothing has been done. We are in expectation of the steamers Paysandú from the Trea Bocas, and I believe she is the only one, if not freighted there, that will come down, as the 'Proveedor,' Brazilians and Argentines, are occupied taking provisions from Corrientes to the army.

Local news none.

Yours truly, M.

The 'Tribuna' published a bulletin yesterday with the following letter:

Paraná, April 25th.

"The officers of the San Miguel have just brought word from Corrientes that the Paraguayan army is surrounded, Gen. Flores having cut off its rear, and Baron Port Alegre crossing the Upper Paraná out-flanked them on the other side. The fleet is going to bombard Lopez's encampment, and on the day the San Miguel left Corrientes (Sunday 22nd) a fierce cannonade had been heard all day. A grand pitched battle was regarded imminent and there were hopes of taking Lopez alive, as he is still in his encampment."

Respecting the above we regret to find that the news of Lopez having been shelled out of his encampment turns out incorrect, or at least premature, and the story of Baron Port Alegre is a mere dream, for he cannot be within 3 months' march of Itapirú.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

Yesterday was a summer day, the frost, which for two nights previously was very severe, has completely disappeared, and we are now enjoying the delicious autumnal weather only known in the Plate. The suburbs are completely deserted, all the fashionable families have come to town.

The mails from Chile arrived yesterday. There has been no renewal of the bombardment and the damage done to Valparaiso appears to have been greatly exaggerated, only the public buildings having been fired at, and 10 private houses knocked down by accident.

A witty broker who called to visit our Itapiru relics assures us that the Paraguayan soldier's cap resembles strongly Mr. Borkum Dolff's celebrated hat.

Our colleague, the 'Tribuna,' yesterday took a leaf from the 'Standard' and published a very excellent plan of Itapiru, Paso de la Patria and mouth of Paraguayan River. It looks as if it were a wood engraving, and is really very well done and reflects great credit on our morning colleague.

Our cricket friends will shortly have another game at Palermo, with the officers of the Sharpshooter. We will give due notice of the match.

One of our leading Argentine merchants, who has business connections with Chile, very nearly lost a large quantity of tobacco, which he had deposited in the Custom House of Valparaiso. The last of the bales of tobacco were removed after the bombardment commenced, and the house in which they were deposited was subsequently burnt to the ground.

On Tuesday evening, at five o'clock, the news arrived at San Antonio de Areco of the passage of the river by the allies and the capture of Itapiru. In an instant the little town was convulsed: fire-crackers, rockets, bombs, &c., were the order of the day. Sr. Font, the popular Justice of the Peace, emerged from his residence at the head of the Municipality, and followed by the whole population of the town, proceeded to the town-hall, where the children of the National School assembled and intoned the 'national anthem.' The town band played, champagne, beer, and gaseosa flowed on all sides, speeches with the most patriotic and soul-stirring perorations were delivered; and, in fact, the oldest inhabitant of Areco testified to never having witnessed such a jollification. The telegram, with the news, was despatched from the Government-house to Mercedes, where it arrived at eleven o'clock. Mr. O'Connor, the Judge, at once despatched 'chasques' all over the country with the grateful news.

Our colleague, the 'Tribuna,' published yesterday 'Trader's' letters on banking. We believe that they are the best on the question, and likely to effect some change in our monetary system.

The meeting at Dr. Segui's house has proved a 'fiasco.' Dn. Adolfo Alsina can afford to laugh at the opposition candidates, who united cannot muster over 16 votes.

To-day we publish a letter from our Paraná correspondent with two days later news from the war. There is nothing new.

The total number of members of Congress at present in town does not amount to a baker's dozen; but they are all on the way down.

On the 7th inst. Mr. Villegas's house No. 134 Calle Ayacucho, will be sold by auction at the Cabildo; it is valued at $100,000.

Yesterday a fellow named Angel Mariano Romano was tried for an attempt to murder; probably this day six months we may hear the decision.

To-night the auction of Canon Fuentes's books, 5,000 vols. again takes place. The books last night sold for a mere song.

The heirs of Amos Tolson and Dña Ruth Wilson de Tolson are called to send in their claims. We believe the estate is large.

Fusoni's new house is now almost finished; it has such an imposing appearance that it actually changes the aspect of the street. The Mauá Bank building, which was one time the largest in that street, is now completely eclipsed by Bosch's and Fusoni's magnificent houses.

We perceive that in the great lawsuit of Dña. Juana Manso against Marcos Sastre the courts have at last dedided in favor of the plaintiff, condemning the defendant in $1292 m|c.

The 'Nacional' of Friday gives an amusing account of how an Irish gentleman was fleeced last Carnival by a rather wide awake 'mascarita,' who robbed him of ten thousand dollars besides jewellery. Our countrymen ought to be more on their guard, the 'mascarita' turned out to be a young man dressed in woman's clothes. Our countryman discovered the thief, but could do nothing, as the fellow was not worth a copper.

Sr. Ochoa, a well-known Spanish merchant who has made a large fortune in this country, left in the packet for Spain; several other Spanish merchants also think of leaving.

The capture of the Spanish frigate Almansa has not as yet been confirmed and it is extremely improbable as the Chilians have very few vessels for the Straits.

The arrivals by the Southern Railway on Thursday were as follows: 120 doz. sheepskins, 27 dry hides, 510 arrobas wool, 448 arrobas grease.

Miss E. Reyes has arrived from Montevideo to take part in the grand concert which will shortly be held in the Colon for the Sanitary Relief fund.

A young Oriental officer, at present on half-pay, is about to offer his sword for the Chilians and Peruvians, his name is not published, but we suppose it is our friend Sr. Bustamante.

The Porteña, which left here on Tuesday night, ran down to Montevideo in 8 hours; when she arrived there it was 2 o'clock in the morning but Flag-captain Van Slyck commenced blowing off his whistle which awoke up the whole of Montevideo. Commander Scuiriano, who is one of the most popular commanders in the river, kept up one continuous firing of rockets. The Brazilian officers at the hotels got out of their beds and went on the azoteas and there kept firing off guns, rockets, &c., until daylight. Many of the people were very indignant at being turned out of their beds at such an unseasonable hour.

Next week some scores of Congress men are expected to arrive from Rosario: as yet there are very few in town, but now every steamer may be expected to bring us one or more legislators.

Yesterday a juvenile member of the bar, Sr. Don Jorge Damianoviche, made a very brilliant discourse on the subject of nomination of judges by the executive and not by election. In New York all the state judges are elected, but we believe the nomination by the executive is far preferable.

We hear on good authority that very shortly the Swedish Government will establish a South American naval station at the Plate. The Swedish man-of-war Gefle, which was in port, left on Thursday for Montevideo.

On Sunday the distribution of prizes to the children of the public schools at Canuelas will take place; we suppose there will be a grand 'funcion' on the occasion.

Out in the country towns we hear that zapallos, fine large ones, are selling at one paper dollar each. In the Boca there are at present millions of zapallos, and potatoes are now arriving so fast that soon the price will be five dollars per arroba.

Our office was crowded all day yesterday with subscribers who called to see the relics of Itapirú—the enormous size of the cannon balls attracted general attention.

The supplementary mail for the packet leaves to-day. As this morning's 'Standard' contains the news from Chile, and two days latter from the war, we have, in anticipation of a rush, printed extra copies.

MUNICIPAL RETURNS OF SOUTH BARRACAS.

We have been favored by Mr. O'Gorman, Justice of Peace, with an interesting report recently published, of South Barracas, for the year 1865.

The department, since its separation from Lomas de Zamora (1861), has been reduced to a superficies of 4 leagues. Its population in 1865 amounted to 5,250 souls: the value of taxable property is set down at 25⅛ millions, yielding for Contribucion Directa 76,290$. The municipality is composed of 4 members, with a Justice of Peace, 5 Alcaldes, 37 Tenientes-alcaldes, and 8 policemen. In 1856 the English population numbered 247, but it now amounts to only 38: the population was formerly 2 thirds foreign, but now comprises 2,930 Argentines and 2,320 foreigners. There are 1,160 houses, including 208 of brick; and 214 quintas, with 3,500 cuadras under cultivation. Only 31 per cent. of the inhabitants know how to read and write. Of 500 children born in the year, 400 have been vaccinated.

The great industry of Barracas is Saladeros: there are 14, but only 11 have been working, belonging to Messrs. Saavedra, Cambaceres, Lando, Rocca, Beriso, Panthou, Soler, Alves Pinto, and Muñoa, who employed some 900 peons, and the total amount paid out in wages was 11,206,829$, the lowest salary being 30$ per diem and some peons earning even 150$ and up to 400$ in a day. The killing during 8 months up to Sept. 1st footed up: 303,508 horned cattle, 87,844 mares, and 5,026 sheep; the exports amounting to 400,000 hides, 370,000qq jerked beef, and 350,000 arrobes grease. Since the opening of the G. Southern Railway, land for chacras has risen from 500$ to 3,000$ per cuadra.

The number of marriages during the year was 73, of which 12 were of natives, 16 mixed, and 45 of foreigners. Of 500 births, 118 were children of natives, 104 of mixed parentage, and 278 of foreigners: illegitimate children only numbered 54. The number of deaths was 364, of which 321 were natives and only 43 foreigners: the mortality shews an increase of 114 deaths, or about 48 per cent., over the year 1864, while the increase in births was only 25. The births exceeded the deaths in 1864 by 225, and last year by only 136. We find one-fourth died of fever, one-fourth of lock-jaw, and next come measles, decline and sore-throat: 5 persons died of extreme old age, 293 under 8 years, and only 38 were married.

BANKING and the MONEY MARKET.

"Trader's" Letter to the "Tribuna."

April 24, 1866.

To the Editors of the "Tribuna."

Gentlemen,

Having seen the announcement of your intention to comment on my letters and project of reform of the monetary system, and for fixing the value of the paper currency, I have much pleasure in making a few remarks which you may deem opportune, premising them with an indication of the just and wise policy of a liberal and equitably-based financial system, through which the resources of the country itself are availed of, in conjunction with moderate concurrence of effective capital derived from without.

It has too long been the custom to expect everything to be brought to our hand, without a corresponding inclination to meet that which we invite, with a fair and liberal spirit, and with the available means and the resources which a liberal policy would inevitably bring into play. I may add that the simplicity of the means through which great results may be attained, will be patent in my project, and moreover that it is essential that that simplicity should be preserved—all complication strenuously avoided—in the arraugement of detail.

'The aim' of my project is the legitimate expansion of credit on a sound and effective basis, and its 'results' will be, the giving to the country an increased and represented circulating medium of more or less 'ten millions sterling, 50 millions patacons,' and at the same time the conversion, of that which President Johnson characterises as so great a national evil, in 'una moneda irremediable,' into a currency with a metallic base and fixed value: and these results can be obtained, under the project, without cost or sacrifice whatsoever.

The 'sum' of this project is, that the Government enter into a treaty with the banking companies to the end that they accept the paper currency as 'legal tender,' at a fixed rate, and render the same effective, through their guarantee. The giving of such companies of capitalists a lien or mortgage on public lands, or other convenient securities, corresponding to their guarantee, and allowing them to find legitimate compensation in the exercise of the just rights which appertain to a specie capital brought into the country.

The figures stand thus:—

300 millions of paper currency, at $25 per patacon, is 12 million patacons, £2,400,000. The maximum specie representative of this value in currency is £800,000, or 4 million patacons: divided among three (I assume three for the sake of the calculation, but it is not necessarily to be limited to that number) say the Provincial Bank, and the two chief banking companies at present established;* this would be a little over £260,000 cash. The said banks, I will assume, have an effective capital each of £1,000,000; and to meet the requirements of the guarantee of the paper currency, they introduce each £250,000. The £250,000 being dedicated as reserve (and half that, £125,000, would be more than ample for the purpose) in representation of the currency. The £1,000,000 would, at the lowest estimate, be entitled to a representative issue of £3,500,000, which collectively would be over £10,000,000, or 50 millions patacons, absolutely available circulating medium, with a (more than sufficient) metallic base to meet the requirements of, and develop the industry and commerce of the country!

This project is, of course, without prejudice to the redemption of the paper money when practicable.

Yours,

W. L.

* It is to be supposed that any other banking company enjoying the right of issue would be required to participate in the guarantee of the paper money.

MME. KRUTISCH AND THE COMISION DE SOCORROS.

Cash sales 84,000.

Specie opened very stiff this morning owing to one broker buying no less than 60,000 for cash. Later on, however, the Government sold, which shook the market, and it leaked out that the Bank had been obliged to stop discounting in paper owing to the numerous applications. It is said, however, on very good authority, that the Bank will reduce its rate of interest next week. The news from the seat of war which arrived by way of Paraná was regarded as very satisfactory. Flores had out-flanked Lopez, the Baron Porto Alegro had at last crossed into Paraguay, and in fact the opinion is now unanimous that Lopez is on his last legs, and promptly the whole war will be terminated. Some brokers assert that President Mitre will be back in Buenos Ayres in time to open Congress, having successfully closed the campaign.

The time sales of specie ruled a little more active; the vencemientos for the end of the month are unusually heavy; the following are the rates:

The Demetrio Fario with cargo, which was scuttled in port, will be sold by auction on Monday at 11 o'clock.

The fire which occurred behind the Bolsa today in Sr. Alzago's house, caused an alarm amongst the brokers; it was, however, quickly extinguished by the porters of the Universello and Maua Bank; damage trifling.

Capital subscribed $1,711,198 75c. sil.
Number of Policies, 1413.
Bonds purchased 270,100 hard dollars.

The Bienhechora offers three various modes of Insurance to its subscribers: 1st, with the loss of capital by the death of the Insured party; 2nd, without loss of capital in said event; 3rd, with mere compound interest.

In the first form the Insured party has a right to:

1. To compound interest on the bonds purchased by the capitals received by the Company.
2. To a propertionate share of the capitals and interest of those who die in their respective sections.
3. To a proportionate share of the Capitals and Interests of forfeited subscriptions.
4. To a proportion of gains resulting from increased value of the National Bonds acquired by the inversion of funds.

In the second form the Insured claims

1. Compound Interest on the National Bonds purchased by the Association,
2. A proportionate share of the Interest due on the Capitals of those who die in the respective sections, which capitals are returned to the subscribers
3. A proportion of the interest due on forfeited shares.
4. A proportionate share of the profits arising from the increased value of the National Bonds, acquired by inversion of funds.

Finally, in the third form, gives a right to the corresponding, interest produced by the Bonds purchased with their subscriptions, and the successive reinvestment of such interest, effected quarterly, when the coupons are paid up by the public treasury.

So marvellous are the benefits arising from the employment of Capitals in Public Funds, assisted by the combinations effected by "La Bienhechora," based upon the Mortality Tables of Deparcieux, and the interest produced by the 6 per cent. Consolidated Bonds, that taking for a model, the result given by other companies established precisely in the same form and basis, but with an accumulative interest much inferior to that gained by the "Bienhechora," that it is enabled to present as positive the following tables showing the gradual progression of capitals for a subscription of:

SAVINGS BANK.

BANK MAUA AND CO.

No. 103 Calle de Cangallo,
BUENOS AYRES.

The immense advantages of Accounts Current are now so generally felt and appreciated in the two great emporiums of the River Plate, Montevideo and Buenos Ayres, that there are very few Merchants who fail to keep one at the bank in which they place the most confidence.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. in Montevideo has already provided for the working classes in that city a safe and profitable depositary for their savings.

The sums deposited in that most important institution are daily increasing, and already reach a very large amount.

These advantages have not hitherto been enjoyed in this city by an immense number of clerks, artisans, working men, and servants of all classes and conditions, who are equally interested in putting their savings out at interest, thus providing themselves with a reserve fund in case of need, sickness, or old age, instead of spending them in the immoral gambling, in lotteries, and other frivolities.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. of this city, following the noble example of their firm in Montevideo, now offer the same facilities in this city, and will open a Savings Bank at No. 103 Calle Cangallo, from Nine a.m till Three p.m on Week Days, and on Sundays and Holidays from Ten a.m. to Twelve m., for the reception of the savings of the classes already mentioned.

The Bank will deliver to each depositor a pass book, in which will be entered the amount deposited and withdrawn.

The depositor is permitted at any time to withdraw the whole or part of the sum deposited; in the former case the interest will be calculated up to date.

The Bank of Mauá and Co. is sufficiently known to the Public by the benefit derived from the course of its operations, which are regulated on the strictest and soundest principles, and always directed to promote the general welfare

The Bank of Mauá and Co. are also persuaded that this new branch of their business will render immense service to the working classes of Buenos Ayres and its neighbourhood.

Buenos Ayres, September 19, 1863.

P.p. Maud and Co.
WILLIAM LESLIE

Fourth—Once the money deposited exceeds twenty-five thousand dollars currency, or one thousand dollars silver, the depositor, if he wishes, can open an account current, according to the rules established by the Bank.

Fifth—In case the depositor loses his pass book, it can be replaced by another on paying twelve dollars currency, and advertising the loss in the public newspapers.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

My fears and suspicions, as mentioned in the 2nd edition of my Prospectus of Hesperidina, have been realized.

SPURIOUS IMITATIONS OF HESPERIDINA

have appeared in this city and Montevideo, manufactured by liquor-vendors, and it is sufficient to taste these beverages which fill some of our auction-marts, to judge of the difference between my bitters and this spurious Hesperidina which is wholly destitute of the tonic qualities that constitute the chief medicinal element of my well-known Hesperidina. What do imitators care whether their imitations have this or that unwholesome or deleterious substance, so long as people drink them? Their grand point is to sell, and as the genuine article is in great and increasing demand they seize on it for a fraudulent purpose. They try to imitate it in appearance as far as possible and get an unscrupulous lithographer to aid their designs by copying the label of the Hesperidina: their business is then complete.

The mixture of the spurious 'Hesperidina' is after this manner: aguardiente, sugar, essences and some unwholesome drugs, all these articles being of the cheapest and commonest kind, in order to have a ready sale at low prices to the fools who buy. "Everything, they say, can be disposed of at the auction-marts," and it matters little to them if the poor people who drink such stuff be soon laid up on a bed of sickness.

Fortunately, I am not afraid that people will try more than once such beverages, and in reality my Hesperidina gains credit by such spurious imitations, for only the best articles are imitated. But, for the public welfare, I must protest against such attempts, and bring before the tribunals the daring imitators and their accomplices. Pending their punishment, the public must be on its guard, and see that the genuine article is known by the following marks:—

1st. All bottles must have labels like the above heading with my name and signature at foot.

2nd. They must be sold at some of the respectable Hesperidina agencies, as mentioned in the lists published in the city journals.

3rd. The price cannot be under $300 per dozen, or $30 a bottle, as anything cheaper must be a spurious imitation.

4th. The genuine article has never been sold, and never will be sold, at the auction-marts.

ROEVER'S PHOTOGRAPHIC STUDIO.

91—CALLE SAN MARTIN—91.

Charles Roever begs to return thanks to the foreign residents and general public of Buenos Ayres, who have so liberally patronised him during the last five years, and regrets that he is now obliged to bid them farewell, on his departure for Europe, per English packet.

He has disposed of the above studio to Mr. Ernest Knorr, who has much experience in this branch of the Fine Arts, and will labor to merit from the public the same support as hitherto, since the establishment remains unchanged, and will keep the same name as heretofore.

Mr. Knorr is hereby authorized to collect all outstandings due to C. Roever, and will also discharge any accounts against him: all such accounts to be handed in before the 25th inst.

In future this studio will be open on Sundays and holidays, and Mr. Knorr begs to solicit the protection of the foreign public, to whom he promises fidelity of portrait, quick despatch, and every attention to the wishes of his constituents.

Parties who have had their likenesses taken in this studio can always find the negatives, with copy, in the monster album, comprising 3,000 portraits.
